Pakistan, they said to her

But what was Pakistan? A country
a bolt-hole, a land of bars?

It held at very difficult set of arms,
offered its hard a soft entries

The filling up with Pakistan
brimming over, spilling.

To the East as West, wherever Pakistan pursued.

But the country wasn't half empty
Old was her could 't be pass away

So would there ~~be~~ ^{there, really be} no more ~~Pakistan be an open~~
~~there be no more~~
~~the other way?~~

Was the promised land a resting place front paws, back paws?.

Pakistan lay in wait?.
