

Pakistan, they said to be.

But what was Pakistan?

A country, a bolt-hole, a land-flood?

In the folding of Sars and the salty of Lary - Pakistan

Along the length of a plain,
In the Journeys of an at - Pakistan

The other was so many Pakistan.

It held all its very different ~~soft~~<sup>thin</sup> spans offered as ~~hard~~<sup>soft</sup> as a so hard embrace

To the East as West whatever way you looked the promised land persisted - but it wasn't happening

and all that was there couldn't be paired away

- would there really be ~~pairing~~ the other way
Was Pakistan a City type front paws, back paws

lying on wait?
